Mexican Army Almost 100 Years Old

BELMOPAN, February 21, 2011:

The Mexican Embassy today informed that on 19 February, Mexico celebrated the Mexican Army Day.

In Belize, a commemoration ceremony was held at the Embassy of Mexico in Belmopan.

The event was headed by the Mexican Military and Air Attaché, General Luis Fernando Orozco, and the Embassy of Mexico's Chargé d'Affairs, Hector Peralta.

In celebrating the 98th Anniversary of the Mexican Army, General Orozco remarked that this military force includes individuals from all sectors of the society, the voluntary recruitment of its members and its positive reputation for its subordination to civil authority, which have characterized it above other defense forces in the world.

General Orozco also highlighted the role of the Army in providing security and the defense of Mexican sovereignty, as well as the gender policies implemented and the respect for the Rule of Law and Human Rights.

Invited guest to the ceremony held in Belmopan were the Minister of Defense and Immigration of Belize, Hon. Carlos Perdomo, the Commander of the Belize Defense Force (BDF), General Dario Tapia, the Commander of the Belize National Coast Guard (BNCG), Captain John Borland, as well as military attachés in Belize, Ambassadors and other members of the Diplomatic Corps and Belizean government officials.

In particular, the Mexican Military Attaché underlined the commendable work of the

Mexican Military and Air Attaché, General Luis Fernando Orozco

Mexican Army in providing assistance to the population during natural disasters through different programs such as the National Emergency Plan, called DN-3. He highlighted as well the Mexican Army's everyday activities in protecting national security and fighting drug trafficking and transnational organized crime.

The Mexican Army has distinguished itself not only for assisting the Mexican population. It has also provided aid to neighboring countries such as Belize during national emergencies or currently in Haiti, where Mexico has already sent an unprecedented amount of aid, equipment, personnel and expertise.

The Mexican Army was created by Venustiano Carranza in 1913 under the name of "Constitutionalist Army" in order to fight the coup d'État that overthrown the then newly elected democratic regimen. As a direct consequence of the Mexican Revolution, the Army was institutionalized through the 1917 Mexican Constitution. Later the Army was consolidated as an institution subordinated to civil authority, which prevented instability and maintained peace in Mexico until nowadays.

John Briceno and the PUP: Scrapping The Bottom of The Barrel In desperation for candidates.

Case In Point As The Evidence Shows:
Nelson Tillett their prospective candidate
For Cayo North, a few months ago, pled guilty for "intentionally and unlawfully" causing harm upon Mara Manzanero, his common-law wife.

A0093

This revelation raises several interesting points
such as:

a) Why is the Women's Arm of the PUP silent on this attack against a woman?
Is it because Nelson's sister, Gina Tillett, heads the Women's Arm of the PUP?

b) Was not the presiding
Magistrate one Anna Rachel Montejo as the documentary evidence shows? Does Rachel not also serve the PUP
in an executive capacity?
Why is she not accordingly advising her party on this man's behaviour and reputation?

c) Is Nelson Tillett's Brother-in-Law (Lucas

so mighty in the PUP that he can get them to push this self confessed wife

Belize's Prime Minister Concerned By Tony Quinn Oil Firm

BY: PAUL CULLEN

The Prime Minister of Belize has intervened in a row at a largely Irish-owned oil company of which yoga guru Tony Quinn is a director.

The Hon Dean Barrow has expressed concern that a legal battle involving Mr Quinn and other directors of the company might disrupt the flow of oil in his country and the revenues it brings.

Mr Barrow has called on Belize Natural Energy (BNE), which operates the only oil well in the country, to take all steps to ensure that production is not disrupted as a result of the legal proceedings.

BNE, through the payment of taxes and royalties, is a significant contributor to Belize's economy and a vital element in its productive sector, he states in a letter to the company which has been sent to shareholders.

The row within BNE and its parent company, International Natural Energy, is set to come to a head at an agm scheduled to take place in Dublin next month. Mr Quinn is a director of INE but is being sued by another director, Paul Marriott.

Last month, a court in the

Prime Minister,
Hon Dean Barrow

Caribbean found that Mr Quinn was in breach of his fiduciary duties to INE and ordered him to purchase Mr Marriott's shareholding in accordance with an independent valuation of the company's shares.

The judgment by the eastern caribbean supreme court could result in Mr Quinn having to pay significant damages. However, BNE now says it is taking steps to have this judgment reversed.

INE has earned hundreds of millions of euro in revenues through BNE since 2005 but has never paid a dividend.

Most of its shareholders are small investors from Ireland who had some previous involvement with Mr Quinn through his training seminars or other ventures. The majority remain loyal to the businessman but a minority have grown frustrated at the failure to pay dividends and the lack of financial information from the company.

Mr Marriott, one of the founders of the company, is taking the case against INE, Mr Quinn and another founder and director, Susan Morrice. The action was filed last investments, Ms Morrice has told the court.

Mr Quinn, who lives in the Bahamas, did not file a defence against the action.

Last week, the chief executive of BNE, Dr Gilbert Canton, wrote to shareholders saying the claims Mr Marriott made against Mr Quinn were "totally unfounded".

INE was a healthy, thriving company and expected to be totally successful in undoing all that Mr Marriott had done, he said.

Among the founders of the oil company were two women from Northern Ireland, Ms Susan Morrice and Sheila McCaffrey, as well as Mr Paul Marriott.

year in the Caribbean island of Nevis, the offshore tax haven in which INE is incorporated.

Mr Quinn was not involved when oil was discovered but was invited to join the board two years later because he was "instrumental" in securing the majority of

Celebrating Success - Hope Creek Methodist School Inaugurated

BY: Arlette Gomez

Education Information Officer
Belmopan

Proclaiming amalgamation as a success, the Hon Patrick Faber, Minister of Education and Youth praised the pilot project during its inauguration ceremony last week.

Hope Creek Methodist School in Stann Creek District has been operating for a year as an amalgamated school.

As keynote speaker for the momentous occasion, Minister Faber told the gathering that amalgamation is key to the Ministry's efficient use of education funds. He emphasized the importance of putting differences aside for the best interests of our children's education.

Minister of Education and Youth, Hon Patrick Faber, delivering the keynote address

"After consulting with the community and much dialogue, it was determined that the Methodists mission has been doing a good job in the community and a much better can now be done with government resources", Faber said.

In explaining the new arrangement, Minister Faber said that government is not trying to break up the church-state system in education as some people believe. He said government understands that spiritual and moral guidance in students' development are crucial, especially in these challenging times.

In the past Hope Creek's resources had been divided between two schools, and many of the 240 students were cramped in a macabre building under stressful conditions. "A good facility for learning is now available for all the children in the community", said Minister Faber.

Speaking to the students, the Minister highlighted the importance for them to stay in school. He encouraged them to know what they want in life and to work toward that goal. "You should not let anyone say they can't do it" said Minister Faber. He encouraged them to lead positive lives always as Belize is counting on them.

In his address to the gathering of teachers, students, parents and villagers, Area Representative and Minister of State in the Ministry of Health, Hon Arthur Roches, noted that education is a tool and the best investment a country can put into its people. "The school building is a shell," said the Hon Arthur Roches. "What happens inside these walls is what really and truly matters."

Gladys Jackson, principal of the school, expressed appreciation for the facilities and reminded everyone that they must take care of the building because it will be needed for many years both as a school and as hurricane shelter.

STAR HUMOR

A Reasonable Wife

After being married for fifty years, Joe took a careful look at his wife one day and said, “Fifty years ago we were living in a cheap apartment, we had a cheap car, we slept on a sofa bed and we watched a 10-inch black and white TV. The only good thing about those day back then is that I got to sleep every night with a hot 25-year-old girl. Now I have a 2 million dollar house, an eighty thousand dollar car in the garage, a nice big bed and a plasma screen TV. The downside however is that I am sleeping with a 70-year-old woman. It seems to me that you're not holding up your side of things.” said Joe.

The wife, being a very reasonable woman, told him to go out and find a hot 25-year-old girl and she would make sure that he would once again be living in a cheap apartment, driving a cheap car, sleeping on a sofa bed and watching a 10-inch black and whiteTV.

Urban Challenges

A New York City boy was visiting family friends on a remote farm in Cayo.

He always wanted to go hunting so he convinced the farmer to lend him his gun.

The farmer agreed on the condition that he should not kill any farm animals.

The city boy headed off into the jungle and soon after he saw a goat.

He creeped up into range, raised the gun and shot it dead. Not knowing anything about animals, the boy didn't know what he'd killed so he ran to the farmhouse and described his kill to the farmer.

"It has two saggy tits, a beard, a hard head and it stunk like hell!" said the boy.

My goodness!" exclaimed the farmer, "You shot the wife.

Rural Wisdom

A counterfeiter decided that the easiest way to pass off his phony $18 bills would be to unload them in some small rural town, so he drove until he found a tiny town with a single general merchandise store.

He entered the store, went up to the counter, and handed one of the bogus bills to the man behind the counter and asked, "Can you change this for me, please?"

The store clerk looked at the bill for a few seconds then smiled at the man. "Of course I can. Would you prefer two $9 bills; three $6 bills; six $3 bills or any combination of the above?"

Vesicular Stomatitis - Human Infection May Develop From Exposure To Infected Animals

BELMOPAN, Thursday, February 24, 2011:

The Belize Agricultural Health Authority (BAHA) highly suspects that cattle in the Cayo District and pigs in the Stann Creek District are infected with Vesicular Stomatitis, a disease known as “sore mouth” in Belize.

Tissue from vesicles of the infected cattle and pigs were submitted to the regional reference laboratory “Laboratorio de Diagnostico de Enfermedades Vesiculares” (LADIVES) in Panama. BAHA is now awaiting confirmation of Vesicular Stomatitis.

Farmers first reported the disease on February 22 and there have been three reports from different villages in the Cayo District and one from the Stann Creek District.

This disease causes vesicles in the mouth, teat and feet of infected animals and primarily affects horses, cattle and pigs but may also affect humans.

Affected animals show excessive salivation, mastitis and lameness.

Human infection may develop from exposure to infected animals when proper precautions are not taken; the disease in humans is influenza-like with fever, headache and muscular ache; and it rarely results in vesicles. The white tailed deer and various species of small mammals may be infected in the wild.

The disease may be transmitted by mosquitoes, contact with infected animals and movement of people, animals, plants, vehicles and equipment. There is no vaccine available for Vesicular Stomatitis and control is obtained through quarantine of affected farms and movement restrictions. Livestock owners may treat their infected animals with mild antiseptic mouthwashes as this tends to bring comfort to the animal and allows for more rapid recovery.

Vesicular Stomatitis is known to occur in the Americas and is frequently reported throughout Central America. Belize frequently reports the disease at the start of the dry period. When the disease is reported it is usually reported in the Cayo District. The Belize and Stann Creek District have reported the disease during major outbreaks, the last major outbreak having occurred in 1997. In 2004, Belize reported the disease for the first time in the Orange Walk District. This report was due to the improved surveillance implemented by BAHA and not due to the disease occurring for the first time. Farmers tend not to report the disease as it is self-limiting with infected animals showing rapid improvement within 3 days and full recovery by 2 weeks.

Vesicular Stomatitis, though it is a relatively mild disease, is important because it cannot be differentiated in the field from Foot and Mouth Disease. Thus the disease is notifiable in Belize, meaning that anyone who suspects the disease because of excessive salivation, lameness or presence of blisters in mouth, teat or feet must report it immediately. Reports can be submitted to any office of BAHA or the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries.
