Where Does One Hide A Stolen 2,500 Gallon Water Tank?

SAN IGNACIO, Cayo, Monday, June 28, 2012:
A 55-year old man and another less than half his age both pled guilty to a joint burglary charge today and were sentenced to spend the next five years of their lives behind bars.

The charge against the two Guatemalan farmers, Miguel Angel Mendez Rivera, 55 and Elias Alberto Lopez, 26 both from La Gracia Village, Cayo arose out of an incident in which the La Gracia dwelling of Clover Walters, 51 Jamaican electrician living in the United States of America, was literally cleaned out by the convicts.

The caretaker of the house, Jasset Hope, Jamaican Missionary residing in Santa Elena, Cayo reported to the police in the neighboring Spanish Lookout

The accused appeared before San Ignacio Magistrate Narda Morgan on Monday, June 25, 2012 where he informed the magistrate that, in exchange of a lesser sentence, he was prepared to save the court time by instantly pleading guilty to the lesser charge of possession of a controlled drug.

Just Simply Not Cutting It

Percentagewise, the rate of successful indictable criminal convictions in Belize is said to be in the single digits.

It is no secret that this is cause for much concern within the populace and could even be a demoralizing factor for the police being representatives of the nation's principal law enforcement agency as they oftentimes labor long hours in pursuit of evidence to build a successful criminal case.

The judiciary of this nation is, without a doubt, pregnant with the most brilliant national, regional and international well intentioned minds. Notwithstanding this fact, and probably through no fault of its own, successful prosecutions remain at a nationally worrisome low level.

This troublesome condition begs the question; in the Cayo scenario, for example, when was the last time, since the western session of the Supreme Court was opened in Belmopan, has anyone been convicted of murder in this jurisdiction? The many acquittals can easily be remembered, but very few, if any, are the recallable convictions.

A foolish man, it is said, is the person who repeats an action over and over again while expecting a different result. It is high time for the intelligent among us to huddle and to emerge with an answer to this troubling condition.

If those with lesser intelligence could readily point out that lengthy delays in hearing and concluding these cases is part of the problem, why are the more intelligent among us not seeing this? Very few are those among us who can remember what clothes we wore last Tuesday or the food we had for lunch last Wednesday. How many of us therefore can truthfully

Community that she makes weekly visits to the house and that the place was left intact on her last visit on Wednesday, June 13. When she returned the following Wednesday, June 20, she noted that the house was broken into and that it was cleaned out of the property it once housed.

The complainant informed that the stolen items, valued at nine and a half thousand dollars, included a 19 in Sony brand TV, two blenders, a black Roper brand stove, a red and black Melium brand generator, a black and grey Coleman brand stove, a sewing machine, a 115 volts P.C brand drill set, a grey VCR, a grey and black inverter, a lady's mountain bike, a two channel modulator, a tape recorder, a black Rotoplast brand 2,500 gallon water tank and a clothes iron.

The investigation revealed that entry was gained by the removal of four blades from a front louvered window and that the items were removed by way of a back door which, after departing, was left open by the burglars.

Spanish Lookout police sprang into quick action and within 24 hours of receiving the report they visited two houses in the village where every single piece of the stolen items were recovered resulting in the arrest of Rivera and Lopez.

The two men and all the recovered items were transported to the police station in San Ignacio where the men were formally arrested and jointly charged for burglary on Friday, June 22. They were held in a San Ignacio police cell over the weekend and on Monday, June 25, they were brought before Magistrate Narda Morgan, where they both pled guilty to the charge.

After agreeing with the facts as presented by Prosecutor George Gomez and having nothing of much substance to say to the court before the passing of sentence, Magistrate Morgan proceeded to sentence them both to five years in jail.

If the case was not prevalent and serious it would be humorous as it really begs the question: How does a person discretely transport and hide a stolen 2,500 gallon black plastic water tank in a small village?

remember the details of an incident three, four or even five years ago? In that period of time how many are the key witnesses who might have the same interest in the case or might even be around to give evidence crucial in securing a conviction?

Additionally, with a population of just over 300 thousand, on the international scale Belize is considered to be a small country. How much smaller therefore is a community of 10 thousand inhabitants. Notwithstanding this reality, a jury of 12 is drawn for within that community which significantly increases the likelihood for one or more jurors being related, in some form or the other, to an accused person on the dock.

The time has long come for us begin doing things differently as the ways of yesteryears is just simply not cutting it.

SANTA ELENA TOWN, Cayo, Wednesday, June 27, 2012:

Footage from several surveillance cameras inside Tropigas are being reviewed by San Ignacio police as they seek to identify the two masked men who burglarized the furniture and electronics store during the late night hours on Friday or early morning hours on Saturday.

The store's manager, Gina Gainsford reported to police that the staff secured the building and departed for the day at around 6:30 pm on Friday, June 22 and that upon opening for the new business day at around 7:45 am on Saturday, June 23 an employee immediately noted that the store, located on the Western Highway in Santa Elena,

BELIZE Rural finance programme

THE BELIZE RURAL FINANCE PROGRAMME EXTENDING RURAL SERVICES TO THE CAYO DISTRICT

The Government of Belize, through the Ministry of Economic Development, Commerce and Industry (MED), in collaboration with the Belize Credit Union League and its Credit Union members, is pleased to announce the launch of the Belize Rural Finance Programme (BRFP) in the Cayo District in partnership with St. Martin's Credit Union Ltd.

The handing over of this new vehicle to the St. Martin's Credit Union Ltd. to access the previously excluded rural people in the Cayo District is just one step to addressing poverty in the country, particularly in the rural areas.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all our participating credit unions St. John's Credit Union Ltd, La Inmaculada Credit Union Ltd, Toledo Teachers Credit Union Ltd, St. Francis Xavier Credit Union, Evangel Credit Union and St. Martin's Credit Union for providing microfinance services to the rural population in all six (6) districts of Belize.

Another Home Invasion In Santa Elena

SAN IGNACIO, Cayo, Friday, June 29, 2012:

Today, almost one week later, San Ignacio police is silent and apparently clueless in their latest unreported incident of a home invasion in the community.

Reports reaching us indicate that around 9:45 p.m. on Saturday, June 23, the Loma Luz Boulevard home of 21 year old Belizean immigration officer, Christy Swan, was invaded by no less than three armed masked men.

Christy was reportedly hosting her mother, sister, sister-in-law and two nieces visiting from Belize City, when at about 8:30 p.m. they left home to visit a relative residing two streets away from her residence. They returned home about an hour later and the first unusual observation was that the light on the front porch was turned off. When Christy and her mother entered the house and looked inside

Christy’s Residence On Loma Luz Boulevard In Santa Elena

Christy’s room, they saw that it was ransacked. They were walking back outside when the sister-in-law alerted them to a man standing behind them with a gun. The other four persons exited, Christy and her mother were dragged back into the house where the masked man was joined by two others who came out of the kitchen. The three masked men relieved Christy of a gold chain and bracelet. The mother was relieved of two gold chains and a pair of gold earrings. The intruder also relieved them of the seven cellular phones they carried. One of the gunmen pulled her back into a bedroom. She reportedly got hold of her mother and in the process also pulling her mother into the bedroom. Whilst inside the bedroom, the gunman demanded money. Upon being told that there was none he rushed outside the bedroom, met up with the two accomplices and walked toward the vehicle parked outside where they met the other four relatives and reportedly relieved the sister of her purse containing $1,600.

All three men fled the scene and disappeared into a narrow side dirt road but not before firing two shots at the sister missing the target but hitting the left back window of the vehicle.

While San Ignacio police continues to remain tight lipped our investigation revealed that one person was detained, questioned and released at the expiration of the forty eight hours legal detention period.

male persons, one of dark complexion and the other of a light brown complexion, inside the store committing the crime. It also revealed the same two persons, without their faces covered, entering and walking around in the store during the normal business hours apparently casing the place prior to committing the crime.

Police investigations revealed that prior to this incident, two male persons, said to strangers in the community, were seen in the area prior to the incident.

Up to press time on Thursday an arrest is yet to be made as police strongly suspect the burglars to be from out of town. The national effort continues with a view to identify them.

In the meantime, the request is issued to anyone with information that could lead the police to the arrest of the two burglars to kindly contact the nearest police station or call 911.

The police are also asking the public to be on the lookout for the stolen merchandise while reminding the general public that it is a serious offence to purchase or handle any stolen goods.

STAR HUMOR

It Comes With Age

One night, at the lodge of a hunting club, two new members were being introduced to other members and shown around. The man leading them around said, "See that old man asleep in the chair by the fireplace? He is our oldest member and can tell you some hunting stories you'll never forget." So they awakened the old man and asked him to tell a story.

"Well, I remember back in 1944, we went on a lion hunting expedition in Africa. We were on foot and hunted for three days without seeing a thing. On the fourth day, I was so tired I had to rest my feet. I found a fallen tree, so I laid my gun down, propped my head on the tree, and fell asleep.

"I don't know how long I was asleep when I suddenly was awakened by a noise in the bushes. I was reaching for my gun when the biggest darned lion I'd ever seen jumped out of the bushes at me like this: "RRROOAARRR!!!"

"I tell you, I just soiled myself!" The young men looked astonished and one of them said, "I don't blame you, I would have soiled myself too if a lion jumped out at me."

The old man shook his head and said, "No, no, not back then -- I solied myself just now, when I said 'RRROOAARRR!!!' Could one of you help me out please?"

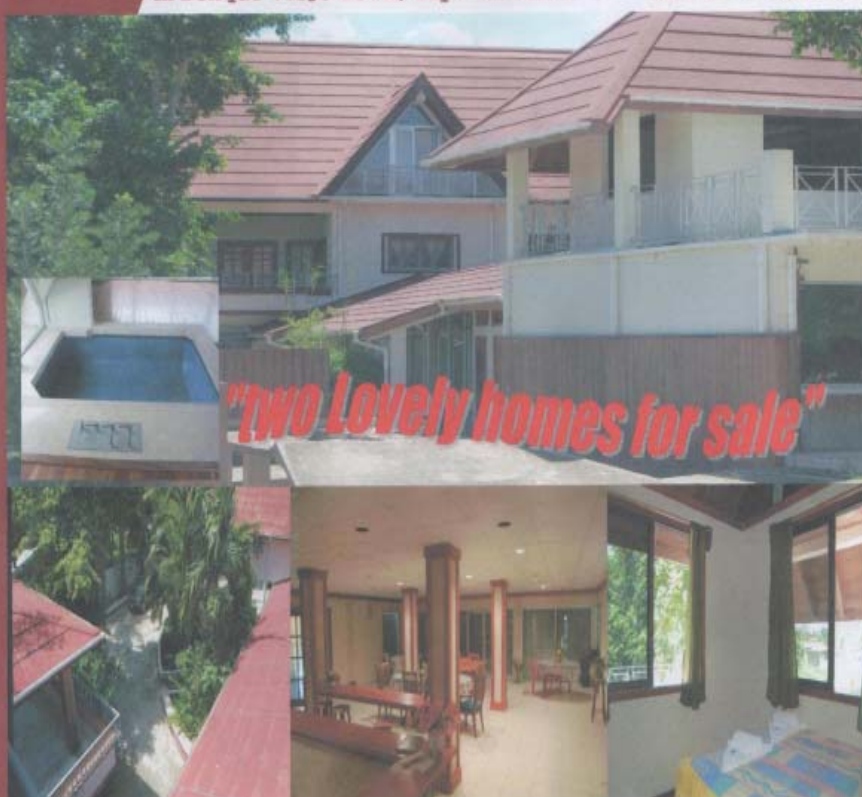

Five Tips For Children Safety On The Internet

1. Parents should place the computer in a common area, rather than a child's bedroom. Monitor your child's time spent online, websites visited, and establish rules for Internet use.
2. A parent should be concerned about what other access their child has to the Internet at school, libraries and at friends' homes.
3. Encourage privacy settings on social networking sites to limit contact with unknown persons, also ensure that screen-names don't reveal too much about your child.
4. Caution your child not to post revealing information or inappropriate photos of themselves or their friends online.
5. Build your child's confidence to relate if anything they encountered online makes them feel sad, scared or confused.

Benguche's Second Drug Sentence

had any objection to the request, Prosecutor George Gomez informed the court that he was offering no objection. As is customary before passing sentence, Magistrate Morgan inquired if the accused had any previous conviction, the prosecution informed that in October of last year he was ordered to pay a five hundred dollar fine on a similar charge of which he has so far paid only one hundred dollars.

The 136 Grams of Cannabis

In light of the current charge, Magistrate Morgan accepted the guilty plea and ordered Benguche to pay forthwith a fine of one thousand dollars, in default of payment he would spend nine months in jail.

He was unable to pay the fine and will be spending the nine months in jail which he indicated to the court will be spent concurrently with the 6 months sentence for October 2011 conviction.
