SAN IGNACIO, Cayo, Wednesday, October 29, 2014:
A 31 year old man of Duck Run 1 was today arrested and charged for rape allegedly committed almost five months ago.

It was shortly after 7 o’clock on Monday morning, June 9, 2014, when a 20 year old female visited the San Ignacio police station and reported that she was raped. In a statement to the police the complainant informed that at around 5:30 am that morning, at the junction of Joseph Andrews Drive and Bullet Tree Road in San Ignacio Town, she board a parked red car which she believed was a taxi for a ride home. The complainant alleges that on the way to her destination the male Hispanic driver diverted into a dirt road on the left side of the highway near Rumors Resort. He allegedly drove a short distance into the road, locked the doors and had sexual intercourse with the complainant without her consent.

While the police sat on the case, the complaint did not and earlier this week she spotted the accused in the area of the Welcome Center in San Ignacio in the same red vehicle. She immediately informed the police of the spotting of the accused. Swift police action resulted in the detention of the accused and the impounding of the vehicle.

The accused, identified as Eric Giovanni Gonzalez, 31, Belizean salesman from the village of Duck Run 1, was today formally arrested and charged for rape. He is scheduled to appear in court on Thursday, October 30, 2014.

Did The Police Plant The Bullets?

SAN IGNACIO TOWN, Cayo, Wednesday, October 29, 2014:
Three men from the western village of Unitedville, charged for keeping ammunition without a license, today walked free of the charge.

The charge against the three Belizean laborers identified as Eric Elrington and Eduardo Olivera, both 27 and Robert Leiva, 18, stems from a May 23rd search, by the police, at Elrington’s house in Unitedville. The search according to the police resulted in the discovery, on a table in the kitchen, of an ammunition box allegedly containing seven live rounds of point 22 bullets.

All three men were instantly detained and transported to the police station in San Ignacio where they were later arrested and jointly charged for keeping ammunition without a license. The men pled not guilty to the charge and, in accordance with the law, were remanded to prison.

When the case came to trial, all defendants were adamant on three points: 1) The team of policemen broke into the house 2) They had no knowledge of neither the ammunition box nor its content and 3) The evidence was planted by the police.

In summing up the trial after hearing the evidence, presiding magistrate, Narda Morgan, informed that she found several inconsistencies in testimonies presented by the policemen whereby creating the element of reasonable doubt resulting in the charge being dismissed against the trio.

Ed. Note: This is a serious matter. For the very sake of our well being, we sincerely hope that policemen are not engaged in the planting of evidence against anyone much less something as serious as any charge having to do with the firearms act.
The PUP Is Bad For Belize

Writing with the firm belief that Belizians are conscious, informed and unwaveringly committed to improving the national standard of living as the nation’s infrastructure is undergoing unprecedented development; we will save the details of the latest display of blatant selfishness by the leadership of the opposition People’s United Party (PUP).

The Petro Caribe Agreement between Belize and the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela came into existence under the Musa Fonseca government during the latter part of 2006. The delivery of fuel from Venezuela, under the agreement caught the PUP government totally unprepared in 2007. It was a fiasco. When the first shipment arrived the government had no storage facility. The product remained in the harbor for several days costing taxpayers around 15 thousand dollars per day. It was a nightmare until Shell Belize Limited was eventually threatened to provide its facility to store the produce.

The fuel temporarily and reluctantly stored by Shell Belize Limited was eventually sold off to southern interests. This private PUP arrangement continued until April 2009, a full 13 months into the new United Democratic Party (UDP) Government until an evaluation and investigation by Venezuelan officials rapidly concluded that the arrangement was not serving its intended purpose as the profits was serving “private interests” and not that of the people of Belize.

The arrangement was halted by the Venezuelans. It took three years for the UDP Government, in its second term in office, to put the infrastructure and mechanism in place for the resumption of the agreement. Petro Caribe was restarted in 2012 and the true beneficiaries, the Belizean people began reaping the benefits as intended by the now deceased visionary Venezuelan President, Hugo Cesar Chavez Friaus.

The Dean Barrow UDP Government, with proceeds from the Petro Caribe arrangement, via unending public announcements, began several social programs benefitting thousands of Belizians. The National Bank of Belize was started with Petro Caribe funds. The unprecedented development taking place across the nation is funded by Petro Caribe. Thousands of new jobs have been created. More businesses are benefiting from the ramped up infrastructural projects taking place all across the country.

In his Thursday evening press conference Prime Minister Dean Barrow proudly announced that Petro Caribe funds will be used to complete the construction of the Coast Guard forward operation base at Hunting Caye to the tune of 1.5 million dollars. He additionally announced that 4.5 million dollars will be expended for the acquisition of two refurbished helicopters for the Belize Defense Force to better patrol our western border with Guatemala.

The Petro Caribe funds is making things happened in Belize. The PUP has nothing to show from the proceeds of this arrangement during their term in office. Their chances of ever regaining the political power in Belize dwindle as development and social programs intensify under the UDP Government.

For the opposition PUP to stand, even the ghost of a chance at regaining political power in Belize, the Petro Caribe Arrangement must be halted and so they have selfishly embarked on this destructive mission. Life must be made hard for the people of Belize. All the jobs must come to an end. The social programs must be halted. The infrastructural development must be stopped, says the leadership of the opposition PUP.

The leadership of the PUP has filed a law suit against Prime Minister Dean Barrow and the Government of Belize, requesting an injunction to the halt of the Petro Caribe arrangement. Government describes the PUP action as an abuse of process. Will any of our learned Judges grant such injunction?

We trust that when the national trumpet calls, Belizians will answer to the call in massive demonstration and support for the development, the social programs and increasing the standard of living of all Belizians. Get ready Belize. The national trumpet will soon sound across the land. Answer the call. Your country needs you. Show the opposition that the PUP is bad for Belize.

SAN IGNACIO, Cayo, Monday, October 29, 2014:

A 14 year old boy was today taken to court on a burglary charge.

In a statement to the police on Sunday, October 19, Rigoberto Gonzalez, 41, Belizean businessman residing in Blackman Eddy village informed that sometime between the 11:00 pm closing time on Saturday, 18 October and the 10 o’clock opening time the following day, Sunday, October 19, his bar in the neighboring village of Buena Vista, was burglarized.

The missing items includes 24 cases of Belikin beers and stout, 2 cases of Heineken beer, 2 cases of Guinness stout, 15 cans of Monster energy drink, several packs of assorted brand cigarettes, 5 USB flash cards and 160 dollars in cash, all at a total of two thousand two hundred and ninety seven dollars.

Police investigation led to the detention of the 14 year old boy who was formally arrested and charged on Wednesday October 29 for the crime of Burglary. He appeared the San Ignacio Town courtroom of magistrate Narda Morgan where he pled not guilty to the charge. He was offered and met bail in the sum of two thousand dollars. The case was adjourned until Monday, December 29, 2014.
SAN IGNACIO, Cayo, Wednesday, October 29, 2014:
“For want of prosecution.” says the presiding magistrate, an attempt murder charge goes down the drain.

The incident occurred over 19 month ago in Santa Familia Village, Cayo. At around 11:15 pm on Saturday, March 16, 2013, San Ignacio police responded to a call from the San Ignacio Community Hospital regarding a male patient undergoing emergency medical treatment for chop wounds to the left side of the head as well as to the middle, ring and small fingers of the right hand.

Police investigations revealed that the patient, identified as Kent Rivera, 22, Belizean laborer from Santa Familia Village, was socializing at a Chinese restaurant in the village when an altercation erupted between Rivera and a male Hispanic person identified by Rivera as Cain “Chino” Quewell. Rivera told the police that after Quewell chopped him he fled the scene and disappeared into the darkness. Quewell remained at large about six weeks until he was arrested and charged on May 2, 2013.

After several adjournments granted at the request of the prosecution to complete the case file, magistrate Narda Morgan today dismissed the attempt murder charge against the accused Cain Quewell “For want of prosecution” she said resulting from a still incomplete case file.

Dear Editor;
Recent developments at Sacred Heart College in San Ignacio has many asking ourselves and others: “Is Sacred Heart College engaged in religious discrimination?”

While all forms of discrimination is explicitly prohibited by the education rules, a recent incident at Sacred Heart College, San Ignacio, smells of the practice of religious discrimination.

A few months ago the President of the college, Dr. Eve Aird tendered her resignation to move on to greener pastures. The post became vacant and was advertised internally. An application, submitted by the serving Academic Vice Principal, Mr. Karim Juan, was the only sent, as requested, to the Board of Directors, in conformity with the deadline.

Neither acknowledging receipt of his application nor being invited for an interview, Mr. Juan desire to take up the post was ignored. The post has since been filled by an individual suspected to be arbitrarily selected by the Board of Directors of the college.

In the wake of this somewhat unethical and seemingly unprofessional turn of events, it has come to our attention that Mr. Juan was bypassed because he is not a Catholic confirmed by the fact that the individual now holding the post is a Catholic.

Mr. Juan’s competence is unquestionable. He has been instrumental in all major developments at Sacred Heart College. No one cared that he was not a Catholic when he was working around the clock to bring to reality the long held dream of the institution for the construction of an auditorium. No one cared that he was not a Catholic as he spends long hours at the school to improve efficiency and the delivery of services.

Is the Board of Directors not aware of the existence of a Teaching Services Commission which exercises zero tolerance for all forms of discrimination?

Having the long held dream for professional advancement is Mr. Karim Juan, a young, energetic, dynamic, dedicated, experienced and proven professional leader, the victim of religious discrimination? While he might be a Catholic, Mr. Juan is a Christian in every sense of the word.

Given that it is never late to right a wrong, we are hoping and praying, with malice towards none, for the Board of Directors to reconsider its position and to appoint Mr. Karim Juan as the President of the educational institution he continues to serve with dedication, loyalty and honesty.

I am confident that these sentiments are shared by the majority of parents, faculty, staff and students of Sacred Heart College.

Please withhold my name.

STAR HUMOR

Ten Million Dollars

Jack’s grandfather left him ten million dollars, and the next week Diane agreed to marry him. After three months of married life, Jack noticed that his beautiful new wife was ignoring him more and more. Whenever they went out in public, she ignored him and flirted with other men. Finally, he decided to confront her. “Diane,” he said, “was the only reason you married me was because my grandfather left me ten million dollars when he died?”

“Don’t be ridiculous,” she replied, “I don’t care who gave you the money!”

Dust to Dust

“I’ll be there in a minute” he shouted.

As they were about to sit down at the table, the little boy asked again about being dust before being born and after you die.

Once again mother said, “yes son.”

The little boy looked at her and said, “then you better get up to my room pretty quick, because something under my bed is either coming or going!!”

Your Weekly Horoscope and Lucky Numbers

ARIES: March 22 to April 20
You are in the early stage of renewal on Monday, and it is uncomfortable and slow going. As early as Tuesday, you’ll feel a lot sprightlier. On Wednesday, bound out of bed early and be the first person in to work. Thursday and Friday find you flexing your muscles, getting things done and polishing your reputation. What you do is almost as important as how you do it. Saturday and Sunday, deliciously happy about your recent successes, you will want to get out a long strip of butcher paper and map out the rest of your life. Lucky numbers: 19, 23, 47.

TAURUS: April 21 to May 20
The intensity of what you’re going through speaks volumes about how much this person means to you. You don’t necessarily want to publicize how you feel, but people can see it written on your face; talking about it may be a better strategy than pretending to ignore it. A philosophical conversation with an acquaintance on Wednesday will be more useful than you ever expected, and Thursday and Friday find you grounded, curious and happy. And in the mood to travel. You could use a vacation. Get through the weekend — of power struggles and weird interactions — dreaming of sandy beaches. Lucky numbers: 07, 49, 57.

GEMINI: May 21 to June 21
Life is laid out like a math problem for you on Monday, and you spend the day trying to determine which are the relevant variables. This calculating mindset cuts through everything else and will be helpful on Tuesday and Wednesday as well, during a deep, intelligent dialogue with your most brilliant friend (as many insights as you have, preaching is not going to work). Thursday and Friday, your interactions with others are more difficult than usual, especially interactions related to business. Saturday and Sunday, you are submerged in big ideas. Lucky numbers: 58, 66, 73.

CANCER: June 21 to July 21
It’s as if you’re on a ship in a storm: One minute there’s a chair sitting next to you; the next minute it’s all the way across the room. With everything sliding and slipping, Monday isn’t the time to get involved with anything long-term and binding. Wait until things settle and you know exactly what you’re working with. Tuesday and Wednesday, do something rejuvenating (a trip to the spa? a swim?) and Thursday and Friday, don’t worry about doing very little (what’s on TV?). Saturday and Sunday offer plenty of opportunities to see friends. Just be careful you don’t get into a spat over money. Lucky numbers: 01, 14, 21.

LEO: July 24 to August 23
A beautiful antique makes its way into your life on Monday — or maybe it’s something else you’ve been collecting. In any case, Monday is like that: rewarding, slightly self-centered, not super energetic. Then, Tuesday, a corner of love crashes into Earth and the sizzling fires of romantic-bliss burn brightly through Wednesday night. By Thursday morning, the fires will have died out and you’ll be returned to everyday terrain, albeit with a few members glowing in the corners. Friday, you are preoccupied by others, but this weekend your mind returns to the topic of love. Lucky numbers: 02, 17, 29.

VIRGO: August 22 to September 22
Everyone has different ways of getting through the day, and different ways of seeing things. You are interested in someone else’s perspective on Monday, but that doesn’t necessarily mean you’ll agree with them. Tuesday and Wednesday, your vim and vigor is no match for the inactivity everywhere else, which drags you down a bit, at least until Thursday. Thursday and Friday are bright days filled with hot air balloons and sweet romance. Be open-minded this weekend and you’ll learn a fantastic and effortless new way of doing something that’s always been a pain in the neck. Lucky numbers: 76, 85, 98.

LIBRA: September 23 to October 22
Being good with your money is not just about being selfish, it’s also about being smart. Nevertheless, Monday’s financial dealings get you thinking about values — not a bad thing to be thinking about. Tuesday and Wednesday are about feelings and expression; your current projects are challenging you in ways you didn’t expect. Thursday, you wake up feeling weird for no discernable reason, and Friday finds you feeling nostalgic about nothing in particular. The weekend offers focus, romance and fun. You and your friends are clearly going to take over the world. Lucky numbers: 79, 82, 95.

SCORPIO: October 23 to November 21
You are the sun and your friends are the planets; you are their center of gravity. You’d have it no other way: It’s incredibly flattering to be depended upon by so many people who are fabulous in their own right. Tuesday and Wednesday are defined by philosophical questions and the likelihood of being led along by others — you might find yourself buying something you have little use for — but Thursday and Friday, you are shrewd, determined and in control. Less can be said for this weekend. There is tension at home, and something someone says may spark an unexpected outburst. But look on the bright side: At least it will clear the air. Lucky numbers: 27, 34, 44.

SAGITTARIUS: November 22 to December 21
You’re in deep processing mode on Monday, and you might feel like being alone. Your subconscious is on overdrive right now, trying to reconcile your internal picture with the big picture outside of you. Your friends may be of some help in sorting all this out on Tuesday and Wednesday — an exploration of some kind is perfect for the group’s energy — and Thursday and Friday, putting your eyeballs in front of some art is a fine idea. Stimulation is good. Original thinking is good. Saturday and Sunday, you talk so much — to friends, to strangers, to yourself even — that your jaw hurts. Lucky numbers: 06, 11, 30.

CAPRICORN: December 22 to January 19
Getting organized is the first step. You are in the right mindset to make some long-term decisions on Monday, but you want to make sure all your ducks are in a row. (Your ducks may not be as orderly as they appear.) Tuesday and Wednesday, discipline is key. You may have sudden pangs of worry that what you thought was possible isn’t possible. Pish posh! Ridiculous! You can do anything, as Thursday and Friday attest. Your accomplishments by week’s end are impressive, but you’ve only just begun. This weekend, you clear off the kitchen table and set to work on a number of new plans. Lucky numbers: 52, 71, 88.

AQUARIUS: January 20 to February 18
The future of your career has never seemed less clear to you. Monday is a typical Monday, except that you have some major nagging questions in the back of your mind as well. Compare the weekend and get ready to get some perspective. Then, you’ll go into Wednesday with a sense of expansiveness, a sense that anything is possible. Let this feeling last. Thursday and Friday, you have too much to do to be abstract and future-thinking, but Saturday and Sunday are great, inspiring days. You’ll have all the time in the world to dwell on whatever you like. Lucky numbers: 33, 62, 90.

PISCES: February 19 to March 20
Legal and financial matters are fuzzy at the start of the week. If you have a transaction to take care of on Monday, make sure you do it in person. Tuesday and Wednesday, you don’t have to be as careful — everything goes your way naturally — but pay extra attention and take care to do the right thing, and you’ll make major headway on several plans you once thought impossible. Thursday and Friday, a friend is in need of some help and might not know how to ask for it. Anticipate this. Saturday and Sunday, you’re in a giving mood as well. Your advice is brilliant, so hand it out generously. Lucky numbers: 54, 78, 92.
A team of scientists in Sweden conducted a study in which the women were monitored for an average of 11 years after the initial survey and the results showed a similar but less pronounced trend. Opposite pattern

Researchers then tracked how many developed fractures and how many participants died in the years afterwards.

In the 20-year follow-up period in which the women were monitored, those who drank more than three glasses of milk a day were more likely to develop fractures than those who had consumed less. The high-intake group had a higher risk of death too.

"Women who drank three or more glasses a day had twice the chance of dying at the end of the study than those who drank less than one glass a day. "And those who had a high milk intake also had a 50% higher risk of hip fracture."

Men were monitored for an average of 11 years after the initial survey and the results showed a similar but less pronounced trend.

When fermented milk products such as yoghurt were considered, the opposite pattern was observed - people who consumed more had a lower risk of fractures. Prof Michaelsson says the findings could be due to sugars in milk, which have been shown to accelerate ageing in some early animal studies.

“Our results may question the validity of recommendations to consume high amounts of milk to prevent fragility fractures. "The results should, however, be interpreted cautiously given the observational design of our study."

Dietary advice should not be changed until more research had been conducted, he said.

Prof Sue Lanham-New, from the University of Surrey, said the study was of limited use. "We do not have a feel for the influence of physical activity or other lifestyle habits important to bone or overall mortality."

"And the effect of increasing body mass index has not been fully investigated in this study. "Milk and dairy products in the UK provide 50-60% of the calcium in our diet. "We know that low calcium intake (less than 400mg a day) is a risk factor for osteoporosis. "Individuals should still be encouraged to consume a balanced diet from the five key food groups of which milk and dairy are key."

Hypertension

grade 1–IV, although the milder types may be difficult to distinguish from each other. Ophthalmoscopy findings may also give some indication as to how long a person has been hypertensive.

Cause

Primary hypertension

Primary (essential) hypertension is the most common form of hypertension, accounting for 90–95% of all cases of hypertension. In almost all contemporary societies, blood pressure rises with aging and the risk of becoming hypertensive in later life is considerable. Hypertension results from a complex interaction of genes and environmental factors. Numerous common genetic variants with small effects on blood pressure have been identified as well as some rare genetic variants with large effects on blood pressure but the genetic basis of hypertension is still poorly understood. Several environmental factors influence blood pressure. Lifestyle factors that lower blood pressure include reduced dietary salt intake, increased consumption of fruits and low fat products (DASH diet), exercise, weight loss and reduced alcohol intake. Stress appears to play a minor role with specific relaxation techniques not supported by the evidence. The possible role of other factors such as caffeine consumption, and vitamin D deficiency are less clear cut. Insulin resistance, which is common in obesity and is a component of syndrome X (or the metabolic syndrome), is also thought to contribute to hypertension. Recent studies have also implicated events in early life (for example low birth weight, maternal smoking and lack of breast feeding) as risk factors for adult essential hypertension, although the mechanisms linking these exposures to adult hypertension remain obscure.

Secondary hypertension

Secondary hypertension results from an identifiable cause. Renal disease is the most common secondary cause of hypertension. Hypertension can also be caused by endocrine conditions, such as Cushing’s syndrome, hyperthyroidism, hypothyroidism, acromegaly, Conn’s syndrome or hyperaldosteronism, hyperparathyroidism and pheochromocytoma. Other causes of secondary hypertension include obesity, sleep apnea, pregnancy, coarctation of the aorta, excessive liquorice consumption and certain prescription medicines, herbal remedies and illegal drugs.

Prevention

Much of the disease burden of high blood pressure is experienced by people who are not labelled as hypertensive. Consequently, population strategies are required to reduce the consequences of high blood pressure and reduce the need for antihypertensive drug therapy. Lifestyle changes are recommended to lower blood pressure, before starting drug therapy. The 2004 British Hypertension Society guidelines proposed the following lifestyle changes consistent with those outlined by the US National High Blood Pressure Education Program in 2002 for the primary prevention of hypertension:
- maintain normal body weight for adults (e.g. body mass index 20–25 kg/m2)
- reduce dietary sodium intake to <100 mmol/day (<6 g of sodium chloride or <2.4 g of sodium per day)
- engage in regular aerobic physical activity such as brisk walking (=30 min per day, most days of the week)
- limit alcohol consumption to no more than 3 units/day in men and no more than 2 units/day in women
- consume a diet rich in fruit and vegetables (e.g. at least five portions per day)

Effective lifestyle modification may lower blood pressure as much as an individual antihypertensive drug. Combinations of two or more lifestyle modifications can achieve even better results.
